Reconciling in Christ

NEW Member Bios

Dear Christian Friends, Today we welcome new members into our fellowship of faith. The following have provided us with brief bios. We thank them for sharing a bit of their life with us and God for bringing them to us.

Chyrl Bowers

Thank you for welcoming me to become a member of Adoration. My formal name is Chyrl (Cheryl) Bowers, and my friends and family call me Cheri. I come from a small family and am an only child, with both sets of parents deceased. That said, I value my Adoration family and also my close friends outside of the church. I am fully retired from mortgage banking, where I spent my career working in loan servicing, and I am semi-retired from online education, where historically I worked as an online educator at both Wisconsin Lutheran College and Rasmussen University. My subject matter expertise is with the business college. I currently work as a teaching assistant for Rasmussen University and Lindsey Wilson University. I was raised in a "non-strict" catholic family and have enjoyed my spiritual growth over the last three years at Adoration. I believe that God brought me to the Lutheran faith and also to Adoration. I say that because while I was pursuing my bachelor's degree at Cardinal Stritch, I found that I was even less aligned with the Catholic beliefs and their rules. It was mid-term that I transferred to Concordia (Lutheran), where I completed both my bachelor's and master's degrees. I would also like to point out that my two favorite classes at Concordia were the required theology courses. In 2013, I lost my mother and my job and decided to once again return to school. While listening to the radio ad, I discovered Wisconsin Lutheran, where I not only started my second master's degree, this time in education, but also became employed with them by a random call from the Dean asking me if I would be interested in an adjunct online position. In 2023, I further realized that I was not getting what I needed from either of the Catholic churches I had been attending, and so I began shopping and attending local Lutheran churches (Prince of Peace and Mt. Zion). Adoration was my third and final. The congregation was welcoming, and I felt the connection to God through the sermons and the community faith. I look forward to a long and successful journey as we grow the congregation and our faith in the Lord Jesus Christ.

Elizabeth (Beth) Peterson

My name is Beth Peterson (Elizabeth). I am single/divorced and have two children. A daughter (Katie) and a son (Billy). I also have one granddaughter (Zaylee) who is the reason we found Adoration. I am currently a food service manager with the Milwaukee Public Schools. I've been with MPS for 27 years. I also work concessions for the Milwaukee Brewers. Iv'e been doing that for nine years. I enjoy both jobs and will continue with the Brewers after I retire from MPS, which will be within the next four years. I am a former member of Our Saviors Lutheran Church on Wisconsin Ave. The church has since closed and become a high school. I was baprized, confirmed, married and had both of my children baptized at Our Savior's. The thing I like most about Adoration is the feeling of belonging. Wr were welcomed from day one. There is a sense of community and caring with each person I've met. I came to Adoration due to my Saylee having some curiosity about church, God and faith. With her mother's permission, I looked around and found Adoration. Zaylee has really come to enjoy going to church, interacting with not only other children, but interacting with all members. I feel like Adoration is an extension of family for us.

Jake Kaiser

My name is Jake Kaiser. My wife's name is Wei and while we don't have children, we have a "fur baby," a small munchkin cat named DuoDuo. I currently work in customer service. I grew up and was initially baptized and Confirmed in the Catholic church. Since college, I have bounced around too many different kinds of churches, from Catholic, to Mormon, United Methodist, Presbyterian, non-denominational, Southern Baptist, and different kinds of Lutheran churches. Adoration reminds me a lot of the church I grew up in, with obvious theological differences, but I love the traditions shared between the Catholic Church I grew up in and Adoration. But above all, the warmth, kindness, and love extended by the people of Adoration are such a reflection of God's Holy Spirit inhabiting the church and people in this congregation.

Sandy Witt

Halloween marked the 8 year anniversary of my move from my home in Illinois to Greenfield in order to be closer to family here. It felt a little scary/ risky since we probably hadn't spent a total of 3 weeks together in our entire lives, prior to my move. My time with my "Milwaukee cousins" has been wonderful! And currently, we're awaiting the first baby to come into the family in over 30 years! Needless to say, we're pretty excited! I never dreamed I would call Wisconsin, home! After graduating from a small Presbyterian college in Illinois, career opportunities took me to the "Sun Belt": Houston, Dallas, Kansas City, Fort Lauderdale, and Orlando. The flexibility of a surprising job offer brought me to Illinois and I could live anywhere I wanted. God certainly does works in mysterious ways! I went to Galesburg, Illinois where my parents were retired. The opportunity turned out to be truly a "Godsend". I enjoyed the career move and it made it possible for me to help my folks. I was even able to help lead the teen Youth Fellowship in our Presbyterian church. The situation was such a blessing. After my parents "graduated" from life here on Earth, I was the only family member left in the area. So, that's how the move to Milwaukee came about. And on top of everything, with the help of my dear friends, Deanna and Rebecca, I have found my new church family, right here at Adoration! I am so happy I came to Milwaukee.
